2021

The 2021 growing season started with a mild Winter that turned into a warm Spring. Bud break and bloom were earlier than the previous year by at least two weeks. Early Summer was warm and dry with conditions changing to warm and wet by August. As September approached, disease pressure was high and getting higher throughout the harvest. Careful attention was needed in the vineyard and in the cellar to ensure high quality.

Harvest dates:
October 13, 2021

Vineyard:
Teaching & Demonstration Vineyard (Anthony Road)

Winemaking Notes: The fruit was handpicked from the Teaching & Demonstration Vineyard. Once brought in, the fruit was crushed and de-stemmed into bins. The fermentation was started on the skins. This allows us to introduce spicy aromas and flavors while adding to the texture of the wine. After about 2 days of fermentation, the fermenting wine was pressed off into stainless steel tank to finish fermentation. When finished, the wine was moved into neutral French oak for aging.

Bottling date: June 17, 2022

Tasting Notes: Aromas and flavors of apple, tangerine, cinnamon, herb and sorghum.
